TRAFFIC

Traffic is driven to the site using a combination of marketing, regular contact with our user base and the 100,000+ pages that direct users from the major search engines. ChemFindit has gone through impressive growth since it's re-launch in 2005, with traffic quadrupling each year through a combination of marketing, search engine optimization and word of mouth.

Our statistics show that our hits directly correlate with the number of searches performed. The number of searches then directly correlates with the number of enquiries received by the companies listed on our site. This indicates that as ChemFindit grows we generate more enquiries for our listed companies, meaning we can grow together! In fact, just one of our top performing companies* has received over 600 enquiries the year which they believe has led to over £100,000 worth of business. If growth continues as it has for the previous years as predicted, they can expect to be reaching the £500,000 next year as a result of leads received through ChemFindit. There are thousands of customers buying the things you sell using ChemFindit. Are you getting your share?
